B&D Executive Vice President Brad Noyes Receives ACUHO-I's Corporate Friend Award

Dedication to Higher Education Housing For 25 Years Led to Recognition

Denver, Colorado – July 9, 2018 – ACUHO-I, the association of college and university housing professionals, recognized Brailsford & Dunlavey Executive Vice President Brad Noyes as the recipient of its annual Outstanding Corporate Friend Award today.

Noyes received the award during a general session at ACUHO-I's national conference, attended by more than 1,000 higher education housing leaders and industry professionals. The recognition is the result of Noyes' commitment and leadership in driving transformational change within the industry.

According to ACUHO-I's website, the Outstanding Corporate Friend Award is given to individuals who contribute to ACUHO-I and the profession. "Many companies have a sincere interest in ACUHO-I beyond a profit motive. They help sponsor events, contribute to the Foundation, become sustaining affiliate members, and offer valuable insights and feedback on the direction of ACUHO-I and its activities."

"I am honored to receive this award, but it truly is a reflection of Brailsford & Dunlavey's collective commitment to ACUHO-I and the sector," said Noyes "B&D is very grateful for the meaningful relationship we've built with ACUHO-I and its members. We deeply appreciate the organization's recognition of our firm and feel we owe much more to ACUHO-I for the many things we've learned through our involvement over the years"

Brailsford & Dunlavey was founded in 1993 and has been an active participant with ACUHO-I and its many initiatives for more than 20 years. ACUHO-I has given B&D the opportunity to form deeper connections with our clients, enabled the firm to help transform the higher education housing sector, and allowed the firm's professionals to learn more about the dynamic student housing marketplace.

Mr. Noyes has been with B&D since its founding 25 years ago. He has been an integral part in the development and growth of the firm's higher education practice. As one of the practice's co-leaders, along with Jeff Turner, he's planned and implemented more than 25 million square feet of quality-of-life facilities. He is also a leading voice in the growing area of public-private partnership development within the higher education sector and shares his expertise through lectures across the country.

B&D looks forward to a continued successful partnership with ACUHO-I and working together on the advancement of the higher education student housing industry.
